Man Was Accused of Maintaining a Gaming House

Peter Mavroides was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with unlawfully keeping and maintaining a certain common gaming house, used and kept for the purpose of gaming for money and other property." Mavroides is the alleged proprietor of a store and two rooms in a building in Lewis street which was raided by the police on the night of Saturday, May 22, and 27 men placed under arrest and fined in police court for being present at a game.

Sergt. Thomas R. Atkinson was the first witness called for the government, and he testified in part as follows: "I have had this place in Lewis street under observation for several months. It consists of two rooms on the second floor of a building in Lewis street.

"On the night of May 22, accompanied by Inspector Dwyer, I visited the building, being stationed in a room directly over a room where there were 27 men. I was able to observe what was going on in the room below by looking through a hole in the floor of the room in which I was located. There were six men playing cards at one of the tables, while ten men were standing about the table. ther men were seated around other tables in the room. The defendant had a slate on which he was making figures and there was a game of cards in progress. I am unable to state what the game was.

"On nine different occasions money was passed over the table. That was between 9.45 and 10.20 p. m. on the night of May 22.

"At one time the man who was dealing the cards had $15 in his possession. The defendant took in money on a number of occasions, the money having been passed to him by men who were seated about the table.

"About 10 o'clock on the night of Friday, May 21, there were 20 men in the room. They were seated around the table playing cards. On the night of Saturday, March 20, there were 25 men present and gaming. Saturday night, March 13 between 11 and 12 o'clock there were 40 men present. On the last occasion I was looking through a crack in a door which led into the room."

Inspector Philip Dwyer corroborated the testimony offered by Sergt. Atkinson.

Patrolman Dooley, who patrols the beat in the vicinity of the alleged gaming house, said that the place is not a coffee house and on numerous occasions he had seen men gaming. He testified that he reported the matter at the police station.

Mavroides was called and testified that he conducts a store for the sale of tonics, cigars, etc., and that the only gaming carried on in the place was for tonics and cigars. He said that he used the slate for keeping account of the games won and lost. He stoutly denied that there was any gaming for money.

Judge Hadely in summing up the evidence in the case said that he was of the opinion that the store was used only as a blind for the gaming and finding the defendant guilty imposed a fine of $50.

John J. Harvey appeared for the defendant.

Charged With Larceny

Fred W. Mills, who formerly managed a stock brokerage office in this city and who was the defendant in an action brought by Lawyer Daniel Richardson which was settled yesterday, is again a defendant in a case similar to the Richardson case, it being alleged that he stole $400 in money from Alice M. Jenkins. The case was continued till June 18 at the request of the defendant.

Maurice St. Dennis, charged with the larceny of a pair of shoes of the value of $3, the property of Joseph Henry Pomerleau, pleaded guilty, was found guilty and he was held under $300 bonds for his appearance tomorrow morning for sentence.

Drunken Offenders

Two first offenders were each fined $2. There were several simple drunks who were released by the probation officer prior to the opening of the court session.

Bought Brass From Minors

John A. Smith, a licensed junk dealer, was charged with purchasing 18 pounds of brass, each pound of the value of 20 cents, from two boys who are minors, in violation of a city ordinance.

Major Noyes stated to the court that the brass was stolen from the Lawrence company's storehouse and later purchased by Mr. Smith. Smith pleaded guilty and a fine of $20 was imposed. He appealed.

John Mayo, another junk dealer, was charged with purchasing 26 pounds of brass from the same minors as referred to in the complaint against Mr. Smith. He pleaded guilty and a fine of $20 was imposed.

Sabin Discharged

Morris Sabin pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of a suit of clothes.

Isaac Paresky, who keeps a store in Middlesex street, testified that Sabin called at his store in April and asked for a suit of clothes. Paresky said that he would not give the clothes to Sabin unless he produced the money. Sabin said he had a customer for the clothes and it is alleged finally prevailed upon Paresky to allow him to take the clothes promising to return in half an hour with either the clothes or the money. Sabin, according to Paresky, failed to return.

At the conclusion of Paresky's testimony the court ordered the defendant dismissed.

Case Dismissed

The case of Vasilios Iatros, charged with threatening a little girl, was dismissed upon the payment of $1, the costs of court.

Sold Cigarets to Minors

Rose Hoyen, one of the six storekeepers who were summoned into court to answer to complaints charging them with selling cigarets to minors, was arraigned in police court this morning, found guilty and a fine of $10 was imposed.

The crusade against the storekeepers was conducted by Supt. James H. Stewart of the Lowell Boys' club, who had two boys visit different stores for the purpose of trying to purchase cigarets. John J. Pickman appeared for the defendant.

Mary Sullivan, mother of Henry Sullivan, one of the boys who visited the stores at the suggestion of Supt. Stewart, testified that she never authorized her son to go out and do this kind of work for the Boys' club.

Henry Sullivan, the boy who purchased the cigarets in Hoyen's store, testified that he entered the store in Concord street at the suggestion of Mr. Stewart.

Supt. James H. Stewart of the Boys' club, during the course of his testimony said that he did not ask the mothers or fathers of the boys for their permission to use the boys. He said that he did not take the pains to find out whether or not their parents wished to have them do the work.

The defendant said that when the boy asked her for cigarets she refused him, but gave them to him when he said that they were for his brother.

Mrs. Sullivan was recalled and said that she supposed her boy was at school the day that he was going around with Supt. Stewart.

John J. Pickman, who appeared for the defendant, stated to the court that he was a trustee of the Boys' club and did not approve of the method adopted by Supt. Stewart in securing evidence. He felt that if they were to be used that at least the parents of the boys might be so informed or their permission asked.

The defendant was fined $10.

$250,000 LOSS

125 Buildings Destroyed by Fire

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., June 8.—This town with its population of 400 people awoke today to a situation as trying as could be presented to one of its size. Over night there has been wiped out 125 buildings, mostly of frame construction and occupied as residences and the loss reached approximately $250,000. Like other prosperous towns in Aroostook county the citizens were fairly well protected by insurance and there is no question but what the destroyed buildings will be replaced speedily. Although there were several accidents of a minor nature and a number of men were exhausted from their efforts in fighting the fires no one was fatally hurt. Assistance from Fort Fairfield, Caribou and Houlton and a favorable wind saved the town from more extensive damage.

The conflagration is the worst of its kind in Maine since 1903 when the town of Houlton, also in this county lost about as many buildings, and suffered a heavier loss, the buildings including a number of business and more expensive structures. Aside from the 10 potato storehouses the Congregational church, Masonic hall and the Canadian Pacific railroad freight station, the fire was combined to residences which with few exceptions cost on an average of about $2000 each. A number of the better residences in town, including that of Judge Smith, were destroyed. Many tons of potatoes were burned in the storehouses which were grouped about the Canadian Pacific station. The burned area covers half a square mile and includes North Main, Allen, Third, Black and South streets to Main street. Between 500 to 1000 people were rendered homeless and turned out into the night. They were, however, gladly given shelter by those who had been fortunate enough not to be in the path of the fire.

Besides Miss Scott, who was thrown from an automobile in collision and suffered severe contusions, two children were run over by trains and a man was injured, but none of the hurts was considered critical.

The fears that a shift of the wind would turn the flames back onto the principal business section of the town were not realized and no further damage was done after midnight, at which time the fire was under control in the thickly settled portion of the town. It had spread to the woods, however, and was burning this morning in the vicinity of the water works, but doing no particular damage.

Reports as to the cause of the fire which started at the boarding house of John Brown on North Main street near the Bangor & Aroostook railroad crossing were conflicting. One was that it originated from a bonfire in the yard and another that a fire was being built in the kitchen with what was supposed to be kerosene, but instead proved to be gasolene. Judge Smith, whose $8000 residence was burned, is recorder of decisions of the supreme court of Maine and was a delegate to the last republican convention.

The people whose homes were burned for the most part owned their buildings. They distributed themselves today among friends and relatives in this and adjoining towns and will be provided for until they can rebuild. Little furniture was saved, so quickly did the flames run before the wind. In a number of instances where household furnishings are being loaded onto teams they caught fire and were burned in the streets.

Much piled lumber was destroyed. None of the potato houses at the Bangor & Aroostook yard was burned. A special train which brought a steamer and firemen from Houlton covered the 46 miles to this place in 45 minutes.

A guard placed at the powder house to protect it from the striking employes of the company, is back-firing in the direction of the approaching wall of fire in the hope of saving the building from destruction. The services of the troops sent to preserve order here during the progress of the strike have been tendered by the officers in fighting the new danger, but have not been accepted.

1000 HOMELESS

Fire at Presque Isle Caused Loss of $300,000

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., June 8.—Fire swept an area of fully one-quarter of the village last night, burning 190 dwelling houses, 10 potato storehouses, the Canadian Pacific railway freight station, the Congregational church, the Masonic hall, causing a loss estimated conservatively, at $300,000. The residences burned included some of the best in the village, although the greater number were of the poorer sort. Upwards of a thousand people are homeless.

A high wind which prevailed all day is responsible largely for the extent of the disaster. It carried blazing embers a distance of a quarter of a mile in many places at once after the fire was well under way. All the burned buildings were of the frame construction and although they were not very close together, their dry shingled roofs were easily ignited by the showers of sparks.

Steamers and volunteer fire companies from Houlton and Fort Fairfield assisted the local firemen with their hydrant service, but even with this aid the blaze could not be said to be under control until the wind had died down after all the northeasterly part of the town had been levelled, and the flames had reached the woods and farming country.

It was 4.30 o'clock when the fire broke out in the kitchen of John Brown's boarding house on North Main street and it was nearly midnight before the work of destruction was finished. The burned section covers an area of half a square mile, including North Main street, Allen street, Third street, Blake street and South street to Main street.

From the boarding house the flames communicated to the Congregational church and from that time it was entirely beyond control.

Several persons were reported injured during the fire but there were no fatalities. Miss Ethel Scott was injured in an automobile collision while assisting the fire sufferers. She was thrown from her machine, suffering severe contusions and possibly internal injuries. Every able-bodied man in the village turned out to assist in fighting the flames. All the stores and all the factories closed their doors and proprietors, clerks and operatives worked together to save property and assist the unfortunate.

It was feared for hours that a shift of wind would turn the flames back upon the principal business portion of the town, but this calamity was happily averted. Late last night the breeze died down and except for an occasional leap of flames from smouldering timbers, the fire was subdued.

In the woods in the outskirts to the north, however, there was still visible the light of a good sized blaze. From the south also came reports of other fires in the woods sweeping in the general direction of the village though still many miles distant.

Every house in the town which escaped the flames was thrown open to the fire sufferers, and the churches and school buildings were also a refuge for many. Hundreds spent the night in the open guarding such effects as they had been able to save.

BILLS APPROVED

Accounts Committee Approves Lazelle Bill

The committee on accounts at a meeting held yesterday afternoon approved a bill of $53.70 sent in several weeks ago by Frank Lazelle, assistant superintendent of streets. It will be remembered that there was considerable controversy over this bill at the time and in fact it was scratched by Mayor Brown and the committee on accounts. The fight by the mayor and Ald. Turner and Councilman Welch of the committee on accounts was against paying bosses for rainy days when the laborers were docked. The city council upon learning that the bosses had to stay about the stables on rainy days while the laborer was allowed to go home, went on record as being in favor of paying the bosses for rainy days and the action of the committee yesterday was in accordance with the sentiment of the council.

The Lowell Taxicab Co., presented a bill of $21 for automobiles said to have been used by the committee on streets on a tour of inspection made on May 27. The committee on streets visited 35 different places during the afternoon of that day, a feat that would have been impossible for ordinary carriages.

A bill of $1 for handcuffs and another of $5.70 for ambulance repairs, sent in by Dr. J. H. Sparks, were approved. A bill for $2.09 for Captain Downey's telephone was approved. The old bill from the police department for spotter evidence was not approved.

ROBERT BACON

HAS ACCEPTED AMBASSADORSHIP TO FRANCE

PARIS, June 8.—Private advices received here from Washington say that Robert Bacon, ex-secretary of state, has accepted the ambassadorship to France and that he will succeed Henry White at the end of the year. According to these advices, Mr. Bacon, when he was first offered the post, declined to accept it, preferring that Mr. White should be retained as ambassador, but, finding that President Taft was resolved in any event to replace Ambassador White, he finally agreed to accept the position.

Rumors of Mr. White's approaching retirement, which have been current here for months, caused genuine regret, especially in official circles where he is particularly persona grata, and among the members of the American chamber of commerce, where it was felt that his experience would count for much in the difficult tariff negotiations between the two countries, which are considered inevitable, for the passage of the new American tariff bill.

MERRILL CASE

A Handwriting Expert May be Called

Mrs. E. W. Clark's refusal to give a specimen of her handwriting at the hearing of the case of conversion of property brought by Rev. Charles A. Merrill, former general secretary of the Lowell Law and Order league, against six members of the league, was about the only incident which tended about the only incident which tended to liven the monotony of the hearing held before Judge Fisher in the civil session of the police court yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Clark testified that after there had been an accounting with Mr. Merrill up to January 1, 1909 came up the matter of the receipt for $15 which he presented to her to sign. She could not understand why, having already receipted for the same, Mr. Merrill desired this. Mr. Merrill asked her who gave her the money and she recalled that he had. He then said that he knew it and he wanted the signature to prove to Mr. Morrison that he (Merrill) had given it to her. At that time she signed it and handed it to Mr. Merrill. She testified that she was positive that the words "Chairs, desk, etc. of the Evening Mail" were not on it.

Then came up the question of handwriting. Mrs. Clark thought the words might have been written in by Mr. Merrill, but did not know as she would want to testify positively. She did not make out the receipt. Moody signed it.

Mr. Leggatt, cross-examining, wanted Mrs. Clark to write.

"She will not write anything," said Mr. Owens.

"I think I have a right to ask that," said Mr. Leggatt.

"You have a right to ask it," said the court, "but I cannot compel her to do it."

Mr. Owens: "We do not question but what this writing is a very good imitation. Anybody can see that, by looking at the date and the signature."

Mr. Leggatt then put in another receipt, signed by Mrs. Clark, to show handwriting.

Mr. Merrill went on in rebuttal and denied telling the committee that they would not get their furniture unless he got the original bills. Mrs. Clark, he said, stated that the bills were worth $500 and she would not let him have them, but would make a copy. "I said, if you cannot trust me with those bills I will not trust you with the copy that you make."

Mr. Merrill testified that the disputed receipt is precisely the same form as when delivered to him and that he wrote it himself and Mrs. Clark signed it.

At the time of adjournment it was expected that Lawyer Leggatt would put on a handwriting expert to show whether or not the disputed words in the receipt were written at the same time as the other portion of the paper.

The hearing will be resumed tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Joseph P. Lynch and Miss Ellen A. Hickey were united in marriage at the Sacred Heart church yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I. The best man was Mr. Patrick S. McGovern, and the bridemaid was Miss Katherine Hickey.

CADORET—BLAIS

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Louis' church yesterday, when Mr. William Cadoret and Miss Aurore Blais, the latter of Cambridge, were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Jacques. The bride was attended by her father, Mr. Michel Blais of Cambridge, and Mr. Albert Cadoret was his son's witness. After the ceremony, a dinner was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Hildreth street, followed by a reception to the relatives and most intimate friends, who included guests from Boston, Cambridge and Manchester, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Cadoret have received a great number of charming gifts. They left today on an extended wedding trip and will make their home in Cambridge, where the bride's father has extensive real estate holdings. Mr. Cadoret will be employed by his father-in-law on his estate.

PRES. HEINZE

TO CONFER WITH THE A. A. A. BOARD

President John O. Heinze of the Lowell Automobile club will go to New York Thursday to confer with the members of the contest board of the A. A. A. This is to be an all important meeting and it is expected that the principal business to be passed upon will be relative to the sanctioning of the races to be held in Lowell. There is little doubt that the sanction of the Three A's will be forthcoming.

While the $10,000 pledged for the guarantee fund has not been turned in as yet, Sec. McKenna stated to the writer that he is ready and anxious to receive the contributions offered by the subscribers. He is desirous that the money be forwarded to him by Thursday in order that President Heinze may report to the A. A. A. that the entire $10,000 has been paid in.

Word was received here yesterday of the change in business of E. P. Chalfant, a member of the advisory board of the Three A's. Mr. Chalfant has been secretary of the Licensed Manufacturers association, but now takes an official position with the Packard Motor Car Co. He will still hold his place on the advisory board of the big racing association.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 8.—Frank Nelson of Detroit, Mich., 1910, was elected captain of the Yale track team last night. Nelson is a pole vaulter.

SENATOR BAILEY

REPUDIATES NATIONAL CONVENTION PLATFORMS

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The last half hour of the session of the senate yesterday was taken up with a discussion on the democratic side of the chamber on the power of a national convention to bind senators as to the details of legislation. Senators Bailey and Money insisted that they were not so bound and both of them referred to the vote of Mr. Bryan in the house of representatives on the repeal of the 10 cents tax of state banks in opposition to the party platform.

Mr. Stone, whose remarks called forth these declarations, contended that with some possible exceptions, the declarations of national conventions on party policies should receive the adherence of members of congress and others representing the party.

The incident culminated in a personal colloquy between Senators Bailey and Stone, concerning an "attack" which Mr. Bailey said he heard the senator from Missouri intended to make on democrats who voted for a tariff on lumber.

At the night session the incident was smoothed over.

Ladies' Day, Thursdays, Turkish Baths, Middle St. Experienced attendants in charge. Everything renovated.

RETAIL TRADERS

HELD BANQUET AT HOTEL SOMERSET

BOSTON, June 8.—The prominent retail merchants of Greater Boston gathered at dinner at the Hotel Somerset last night under the auspices of the retail trade committee of the Merchants' association and the Boston chamber of commerce to unite for the furtherance of their mutual interests and secure information of value in their guild from one of the leading retail merchants of the country and other speakers.

Robert Curtis Ogden, formerly partner of John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, and now prominently connected with several educational movements, was the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Ogden expressed the belief that the retail end of the business world was the greatest and that the retail merchant was to be the great merchant of the future.

Mr. Ogden drew a marked distinction between the department store and business concerns having an aggregation of stores. He believed the latter form to be ideal.

Regarding equal compensation for men and women, Mr. Ogden placed himself on record for the same compensation for women as men when equal work was required. In summing up he stated the large retail house did not injure the small retailer as it created a larger consumption by virtue of being able to handle goods cheaper.

Arthur Brisbane, the editorial writer; Otto J. Piepler, and Bernard J. Rothwell also spoke.

James J. Storrow, president of the Merchants association presided.

SHOULDER DISLOCATED

Reduce the use of the rod to the minimum. To bring out the very best there is in a kid trust him and don't institutionize him."

Miss Florence A. McNeal of Cleveland, Ohio, spoke on the subject "Ungraded Schools for Backward Children as a Means for Reclaiming Delinquent Children."

At the evening session Bernard Flexner of Louisville, spoke on "Juvenile Courts Considered from the Point of View of the Lawyer."

WORKING ON AYER MILL

LAWRENCE, Mass., June 8.—In addition to the construction work on the new Ayer mill and the addition to the Wood mill, there is considerable work going on at that plant just at the present time. Fourteen new boilers are being installed in the boiler house, the operatives' dining hall is being renovated and a new freight house is being constructed on Merrimack street, just opposite the mill office. In order to make way for the new section which is being added to section D, it was necessary to take off a small section of the dining hall, but the portion removed was so small that it will not cause any congestion in the seating capacity of the building. The new freight house which is being erected on the south side of Merrimack street by the Wood mill is to be utilized for storing materials and machinery for the new mills.

TO BUILD BELDING MILL

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 8.—Belding Bros. have let the contract for the addition to their silk mill in Hawley street to the H. P. Cummings Construction company of Ware and Boston. Work will begin at once and the company agrees to have the addition completed in three months. It will be 65 by 120 feet, four stories high, and will be used for the weaving department. Plans are on foot to enlarge the dyehouse and for additional power. The present addition, when completed, will mean the employment of 200 additional hands.

TRUMANSBURG, June 8.—The weavers and most of the other employes of the Hartley silk mill here have struck. Just before work began a telegram was received from headquarters at New York saying that the weavers were to be paid 3 1-2 cents a yard. AGAINST CHINESE

ARREST OF PROMINENT MERCHANT IN BOSTON

BOSTON, June 8.—The campaign of the government to end the smuggling of Chinese into this country in the vicinity of Boston, where it has been said to have flourished for many years, resulted last night in the arrest of Chin Shue, a prominent Chinese merchant of the city, and the only notary public of that race in this country. The warrant upon which officers arrested Shue charged him with "conspiracy to defraud the United States government in illegally smuggling Chinamen into the country." It is understood that the specific case against him is connected with the landing of nearly two score of Chinamen at Marblehead on Aug. 24, 1906. Shue is alleged to have purchased the railroad tickets for the transportation of the Chinamen from Marblehead to Boston.

THE DEWEY CASE

Ex-Judge Says He Will Tell Jury to Disregard Charge

BOSTON, June 8.—Ex-Judge Henry S. Dewey was by all odds the central figure in yesterday's instalment of the trial of his famous libel suit before Judge Sherman in the superior court.

Judge Dewey took the stand and questioned himself at length; he informed Judge Sherman that the plaintiff was going to tell the jury to disregard the law as propounded by the presiding justice; he declared flatly that the judges in Massachusetts have for years been handing down wrong decisions, and finally, when court adjourned, he had a secret conference of fifteen minutes' duration with Judge Sherman.

Some of the questions which Judge Dewey asked himself were rather startling, especially when he was trying to show the jury the distinction between the "positive" and the "natural" schools of law as recognized by attorneys.

The answers to most of the questions were objected to and excluded, but it was plain to those present what the answers would have been to most of them.

At the morning session Judge Dewey spent nearly an hour in reading an essay on law, during which he referred to most of the persons whose names are noted in ancient and modern history as learned jurists. It was an exposition of law from the Romans to the present time and gave Judge Dewey's opinions as to how law should be interpreted.

Chas. T. Gallagher, I. R. Clark, Thos. M. Vinson, Frank H. Haynes, ex-Alderman Francis R. Bangs, Frederick Clemon, Albert Garceau and John Marco testified in the morning session.

With the exception of Mr. Gallagher, they told of securing names to the Frothingham petition. None of them stated that they did it at the suggestion of the defendants, and there was nothing brought out to connect them with the officers of the Good Government association during the campaign.

Judge Dewey began the afternoon session by asking himself questions that allowed him to relate experiences of his life while a young man, covering the period when his father was in the army and was stationed at Beaufort, N. C., Raleigh, N. C., Augusta, Me., Hanover, N. H., Leavenworth, Kan., Salt Lake City and New York City.

When asked what he expected to prove by these statements he said that he expected to show that he was brought up to the standard of the regular army man. In response to a reference that he was dwelling too long on such subjects, he said:

"I'll tell you honestly, judge, I'm trying to get $1 a word for every word I'm speaking."

"Do you understand that there are two schools of law recognized, one positive and the other natural?" he asked himself.

"Yes," he answered. He added that he belonged to the natural school.

Result of the Primaries

Then he asked himself relative to a case where Mr. McClennan appeared for the defendants and he appeared for the plaintiffs, and when he started to repeat the substance of a conversation between Mr. McClennan and himself, Judge Sherman said he would rule it out as he thought such conversations should not be repeated on the ground of propriety.

Judge Dewey then saw Walter M. Sears in court, and as he had summoned him he asked to have him put on. Mr. Sears testified that he secured some signatures for Fred E. Bolton endorsing Mr. Frothingham. He said he heard many statements during the campaign, among them one relative to Mr. Dewey being an unfit candidate.

Judge Dewey then sought to get a comparison between the campaign of 1905 and those of 10 or 15 years ago, but Judge Sherman excluded it. Cross-examined, Mr. Sears said he did not obtain any signatures by fraud, trickery or deceit.

FACTORIES OPEN

Business in Danbury Has Been Resumed

DANBURY, Conn., June 8.—For the first time since the inception of the hatters' strike in January last against the removal of the union label, the doors of 12 of the 22 hat factories here were opened this morning in an attempt to resume work on the open shop basis. The number of the old employes who may return to work is problematical as it is understood that they intend to stand by the union.

The conferences which were held yesterday afternoon and last night between the executive boards of the United Hatters and Rev. Fr. Kennedy and Rev. H. C. Meserve were continued today. If the representatives of the United Hatters accept the proposition of Fr. Kennedy and Mr. Meserve, the 10 factories which did not open will resume work for 90 days on an open shop basis, during which period an attempt will be made to settle the present difficulties by arbitration.

QUICK WIT

SAVED STEEPLE JACK FROM SERIOUS INJURY

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—Presence of mind alone saved Edward Schneider from being dashed to death from the top of a smokestack 150 feet above the roof of a powder house of the Union Electric Light & Power Co., at Lewis and O'Fallon streets.

Schneider, with Charles Kinsey, was painting the stack, and was seated in one of the swing seats used by Steeple Jacks ready to be hoisted to the top. He gave the word and Kinsey opened the controller of an electric motor to the drum of which the hoisting rope was attached. In starting the motor Kinsey in some way caught his glove between the rope and the drum around which it was winding. In his excitement he threw the motor on full speed and the swing with Schneider in it mounted toward the top at an alarming rate.

Schneider realized the danger, but did not dare to look downward for relief. He guessed what had happened and instantly conceived the plan which saved his life.

As the guide ropes attached to the swing came level to the top of the stack Schneider jumped. He grasped a steel hoop with one hand, while he clung to the top of the stack with the other. Then he looked downward and yelled to Kinsey to shut off the power. The motor was still running, and eventually would have broken the rope or the pulley through which it ran, hurling Schneider to the roof below.

Schneider's hands were bruised and lacerated, but after receiving treatment at the city dispensary he returned to work, and again was hoisted to the top of the stack.

INJURED MEN

ARE REPORTED TO BE RESTING COMFORTABLY

CAMBRIDGE, June 8.—While none of them could be considered out of danger, the three men who were wounded at Somerville Saturday, by John Murphy, who killed five men in a fit of insanity, were today resting comfortably and holding their own well. Dr. Daniel Hayes, who was considered fatally wounded, was said by the physicians at the Cambridge relief hospital to be doing remarkably well, despite his severe injuries. One of his intestines had been completely severed and it was necessary to use what is called a "Murphy button" used only in rare cases to join the two parts.

John Cheevas and Joseph Chicosk were in about the same condition and unless complications set in, are expected to recover.

BOY KILLED

HE WAS CRUSHED UNDER A CARAVAN

BOSTON, June 8.—Thomas R. Burke, 9-year-old son of William J. and Mary Burke of 591 East 1st street, South Boston, was run over and killed by a two-horse caravan about 7 last evening on L street, near the Edison electric light plant, South Boston. The rear wheel of the caravan, which was loaded with stone, passed over the lad's head, crushing it.

Patrick Campbell, driver of the caravan, was informed of the accident by the watchman of the electric light company, and as it was impossible for him to render assistance, Campbell drove to the stable and then went to station 12, where he gave himself up to Lieut. Egan. Later Medical Examiner Magrath said that the lad's death was accidental, and Campbell was allowed to go to his home.

REV. FR. LYONS

SCORES THE AMOSKEAG CO. OF MANCHESTER

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 8.—Referring to the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co.'s contribution of $25,000 toward a new building for the Y. M. C. A., the Rev. John J. Lyons, pastor of St. Anne's Catholic church, said yesterday that never during his pastorate of 25 years had this corporation done anything to assist its own operatives, the people who made millions of dollars for it, the Irish, French, Poles or Germans, for moral improvement.

"It limited its efforts," said Fr. Lyons, "to bringing the wild people of central Europe, without wives or children, with dirks concealed in their clothing, to Manchester to beat down the wage scale of the people who for generations have been their faithful employes."

THEATRE VOYONS

Real singers in pleasing songs are a strong feature at the Theatre Voyons today. "Oh You Coon" a ragtime bit of recent date is sung as a duet by Charles Rogers and Winifred Symonds to an encore at every performance. "Love's Old Sweet Song" sung by May Whitely and the quartet pleases every one. Jack Manchester sings "The Summertime for Mine" finely. "The Curfew Bell Tells" a fine romantic story of the days of Cromwell and "Saved by a Waltz" tells a dramatic story of today very touchingly. There are several very laughable comedies and a travel picture, "Mardi Gras Tamborines" that is very interesting.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

These are delightful days at the Academy for the interior of the theatre is kept cool and comfortable at all times and the usual fine show is provided daily. The warm weather will not affect the Academy, for special facilities for cooling and ventilation have been installed. The daily program consists of four reels of new moving pictures, two illustrated songs and a series of beautiful stationary views of the world known as Travelettes. The programs change three times weekly. A five cent admission entitles one to a good seat.

SHIPPING BY FREIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The post office department is now shipping a large portion of its supplies throughout the country by freight. Prior to 1906 all such equipment for post offices was placed in the mails and paid for at the same rate as regular mail matter. From the division of supplies there were shipped during the last month 543,742 pounds of freight. A uniform bill of lading recently adopted by the government departments is being used and is proving a great convenience.

Joseph Letourneau Was Probably Thrown Into River

Autopsy Shows Wound in Head Inflicted Before Death, But None of the Usual Results of Simple Drowning — Police Are Investigating

It is believed by the police of this city that Joseph Letourneau, the missing Lowell man whose body was found in the river at Lawrence Sunday, was a victim of foul play.

An account of the finding of the body will be found on page seven of today's editions.

At the request of Lawyer Edward Tierney, of this city, counsel for the Letourneau family, an autopsy was performed as a result of which the Lawrence police have begun another investigation for the purpose of determining how the unfortunate man met his death.

When the body was found there was no coat on it, but the overshoes had not been removed.

A wound was found on the head which the medical examiner believes was inflicted before death. The autopsy failed to show any water in the lungs or stomach which would indicate that death was not caused primarily by drowning.

Lawyer Tierney was in Lawrence today at the autopsy and before returning to this city visited the police station and was assured that a rigid investigation would be instituted.

A report was spread around Lawrence yesterday to the effect that the pockets in the clothing of the deceased were turned inside out when the body was found. The dead man's watch, a cheap affair, was found in his clothing and it had stopped at 8.45 o'clock.

BILL DAHLEN OF BOSTON NATIONALS, WHO MAY BE TRADED TO BROOKLYN

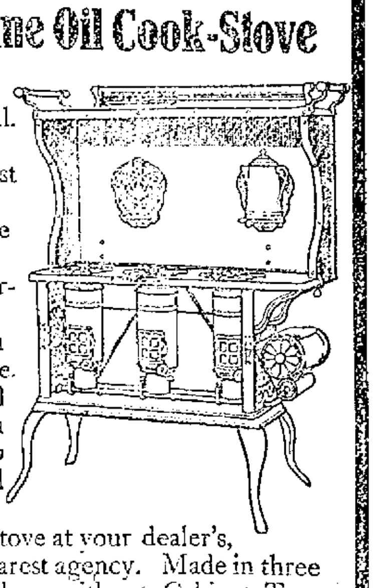

BOSTON, June 8.—Rumors are now in circulation in the Boston Nationals' camp that Bill Dahlen, the veteran shortstop of the Doves, is to be traded to the Brooklyn club for two of Manager Harry Lumley's ball tossers. Early in the year President Ebbets of the Brooklyn club was anxious to have Dahlen to pilot his team this season, but the terms of the Boston management were considered too high. Dahlen is one of the oldest players in the major leagues. This season marks his 19th in fast company. After making a splendid showing in the field and at the bat for several campaigns as a member of the New York Giants, Dahlen was traded along with Bowerman, Ferguson, McGann and Browne, for Tenney and Birdwell during the winter of 1907. Last season he played a star game at short for the Doves, but this year his playing has not been up to the standard of former years, and young Starr has replaced him several times.

Men Are Charged With Daring Holdups

ALBANY, N. Y., June 8.—Barney Reilly, a prize fight promoter, and James Brennan, both of Albany, were each held in $12,000 bail yesterday in police court, charged with being two of three men who with handkerchiefs over their faces held up at the point of a pistol Fred Archer, a negro horse dealer, on the outskirts of Albany early today. Archer says his home is in Binghamton and claims he was robbed of $4550. The third suspect is still at liberty.

Brennan, the police say, came here from Rhode Island after serving a term in state prison for robbery. About a year ago they say he was pardoned by Gov. Higgins.

STORE ENTERED

MERCHANDISE TO THE VALUE OF $150 REMOVED

NEW BEDFORD, June 8.—Merchandise to the estimated value of $150 was taken from the dry goods store of Mrs. George H. Dexter, on Water street, Mattapoisett, in a morning burglary yesterday and all indications suggest that the break was the work of a party of automobilists or professional burglars who are traveling by auto.

The thief or thieves gained entrance to the store through a window, having removed the glass. There were many peculiar features about the break, notable among which was the discrimination shown by the thieves. They took silk and silk threads, silk ribbon and fancy hose for men, taking only those of size ten. A small stock of costly laces was also depleted. Mrs. Dexter estimates the value of the missing goods at $150 at the lowest.

Several people in town heard an automobile about three o'clock this morning. This is the only clew the police have to work on.

NEEDED HELP

AMBULANCE EMPLOYES STRUCK A HUSKY INSANE MAN

The ambulance was called to 33 Stanley street yesterday, to take an insane man to the farm. When it arrived there the attaches found themselves up against a proposition that beat handling green horses a mile. Word was sent to the police station for assistance and Inspectors Maher and Atkinson were sent over to Stanley street. They had their hands full, but the unfortunate man was finally landed at the city farm.

HIS FOOT CRUSHED

F. Nelson, residing at 136 Hale St., had his foot crushed yesterday while at work at the Lowell Machine shop. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Lowell hospital.

TERM "WHISKEY"

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Solicitor General Bowers submitted to President Taft yesterday his opinion as to what the term "whiskey" means in law. Mr. Bowers' decision while not final and liable to be overturned by subsequent court proceedings is distinctly a victory for the contention of the blended whiskey distillers and is a reversal of the position taken by the department of agriculture.

Briefly, Mr. Bowers holds that the addition of harmless coloring or flavoring matter to what is previously whiskey does not destroy its whiskey character unless such addition dilutes or otherwise affects the essential properties of the whiskey. A mixture of the alcohol or other neutral spirits is entitled to the name whiskey providing the mixture retains a substantial amount of by-products in proportion to the volume of the mixture, giving distinctive flavor and properties. The addition of alcohol to whiskey, according to Mr. Bowers, is not the introduction of a foreign substance but is merely an enlargement of the proportion of one proper constituent.

MACHINE SHOP BURNED

CARIBOU, Me., June 8.—The foundry and machine shops of J. S. Getchell & Son in this town were burned late yesterday, together with a large stock of manufactured goods. The total loss is $30,000.

The fire started at about the time that the bigger blaze broke out in Presque Isle, 15 miles south.

DOWN TO WEIGHT

Gardner Tips Scales at 142 Pounds

Jimmie Gardner left for Boston this forenoon in order to weigh in this afternoon for his great match with Tommy Quill at the Armory club tonight. Many thought that Jimmie would have hard work getting down to weight but so easily did he get down to 142 pounds, the required weight, that it is believed he could have made 138 at a pinch. He was strong and very confident.

A representative of the club gives out the following:

Realizing the intense interest that is being displayed in the championship contest Tuesday night between Jimmy Gardner of Lowell and Tommy Quill of Brockton the Armory club, where the bout will take place, has made special preparations to accommodate all the club members and their guests that call to see the [illegible] at [illegible].

CANADIAN TRADE

INTERESTING REPORT COMES FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Merchandise from the United States forms a steadily increasing share of the imports of Canada. In 1869 merchandise from the United States formed 34.02 per cent of the imports of Canada, in 1879, [illegible] per cent; in 1889, 45.85 per cent; in 1899, 58.24 per cent, and in 1909 (fiscal year ending March 31), [illegible] per cent. Meantime the share of her imports drawn from Great Britain has steadily declined, having been in 1869, 56.2 per cent.; in 1879, 39.34 per cent; in 1889, 38.73 per cent; in 1899, 24.72 per cent; and in 1909, 23.69 per cent.

These figures are drawn from the Canadian official publications just received by the Bureau of Statistics of the department of commerce and labor. They represent the latest possible picture of Canada's trade, since her fiscal year now ends with the month of March, and the publications just received at the bureau cover the month of March, 1909 and the fiscal year ending with that month.

Manufactures form naturally a large share of the merchandise drawn from the United States by the people of Canada, since the natural products of the two countries are to a large extent similar and the manufacturing industry of the United States now exceeds in total output any country in the world. The share which manufactures form of the merchandise imported into Canada from the United States has been in recent years more than one-half of the total, being in 1905 practically 58 per cent, in 1906, 57 per cent and in 1907, the latest year for which statistics in this detail are available, 59.5 per cent. The total value of Canadian imports from the United States in the fiscal year 1905 was 152 million dollars, and of this total 89 millions were manufactures; in 1906, 169 millions, of which 100 millions were manufactures; and in the fiscal year 1907 (a nine months' period, due to a change in the termination of the fiscal year) 149 millions, of which 89 millions were manufactures. Meantime the manufactures imported from Great Britain were, in 1905, 50 millions; in 1906, 57 millions; and in 1907, 54 millions.

The principal articles imported from the United States, stated by great groups (in the fiscal year 1907, the latest for which detailed statistics are available), were: Manufactures 88 1-2 millions, mineral produce 21 millions, agricultural produce 18 3-4 millions, animals and their produce 8 1-2 millions, forest produce 5 3-4 millions, fishery produce 1-2 million, and miscellaneous produce 12 3-4 millions.

Of the 89 million dollars' worth of articles classed as manufactures, the principal articles enumerated are, Manufactures of iron and steel, 33 1-2 millions dollars; leather and manufactures of, 2 millions; paper and manufactures of, 1 3-4 millions; copper and manufactures of, 3 millions; drugs, dyes, chemicals and medicines, 3 3-4 millions; electrical apparatus, 2 1-4 millions; binder twine, 1 1-2 millions; books and other printed matter, 1 3-4 millions; brass and manufactures of, 1 1-2 millions; coke, 1 million; metal and manufactures of, 1 3-4 millions; tin and manufactures of, 1 million; wood and manufactures of, 1 1-4 millions; and carriages, cars, etc., 1 million.

The principal articles forming the group mineral produce, valued at 21 million dollars, are: Anthracite coal, 9½ million dollars; bituminous coal, 7½ millions; and ores of metal, 1 1-4 millions.

The principal articles forming the group agricultural produce, of which the grand total is 18¾ millions, are: Corn, 5 million dollars; flaxseed, 2 1-4 millions; green fruits, 2 1-2 millions; unmanufactured tobacco, 2¾ millions; dried fruits, 1½ millions; and bananas, ¾ million.

The principal items of the group animals and their produce, which is valued at 8½ million dollars, are: Horses, 1 million dollars' value; fur skins, not dressed, 2 millions; hides and skins, raw, 1½ million; and meats, chiefly hog produce, 1½ millions.

The principal articles forming group forest produce, which totals 5¾ million dollars, are: Oak lumber, 1 1-4 million dollars; pitch pine, 1½ millions; boards, planks, and deals, 1 million; logs and round unmanufactured timber, ½ million; and fence posts, ½ million.

The group fisheries produce, which totals a half million dollars, includes: Oysters, $325,000; cod, haddock, etc., $51,000; halibut, $36,000; salmon, $[illegible],000, and fish oils, $11,000 value.

The miscellaneous group, valued at 12¾ million dollars, includes [illegible] dollars value of settlers' effects, [illegible] including miscellaneous properties of persons emigrating from the United States into Canada; articles the produce of Canada returned after having been exported, 1½ million dollars; articles for the dominion government, ½ million; articles ex-warehoused for ships' stores, 1-2 million; and coin and bullion, 7 1-2 million dollars.

Two-thirds of Canada's imports are manufactures, amounting in 1907, the latest year for which statistics are available, to 166 million dollars, out of a total of 250 millions. Of this 166 millions of manufactures imported, 89 millions, or 53 per cent of the total, was drawn from the United States; and 51 millions, or 31 per cent of the total, from the United Kingdom. Merchandise entering Canada from the United Kingdom and most of the British colonies is admitted at rates materially below those of the general tariff paid by merchandise from the United States. The reduction began in 1897, when a reduction was made in favor of that country of 12½ per cent. of the tariff rates. In 1898 the reduction was increased to 25 per cent, and in 1900 to 33 1-3 per cent, these reductions applying uniformly on all articles. In 1906 a new tariff was adopted in which the reductions varied, being in certain articles as much as 40 per cent., and in others materially less, the reduction in favor of Great Britain and her principal colonies now averaging approximately 30 per cent.

BREAK DISHES

Is the Order Given by Rabbi

NORTH ADAMS, June 8.—Rabbi Kavalsky, head of the seceding Jewish church of this city, has ordered many dishes owned by the members of his flock either destroyed or put away for good. The reason is that they were defiled by meat killed by Minister Kaplan, head of the regular church, whom he does not recognize as a person qualified to kill meat for use by Jews.

Minister Kaplan had gone to Pittsfield and killed a beef there. Some of this beef was to be sent to this city for sale here. The Pittsfield party, in whose keeping it was, forgot the address and telephoned for information as to where to ship the beef. He got the name of the kosher meat dealer for the seceding church and sent a quarter of the beef to him. He put it on sale, having been expecting authorized meat from another source.

After most of the beef had been sold and used the news about its origin got abroad, and it was found that Rabbi Kavalsky himself had partaken of some of it. Then there was consternation and strict orders issued about purification.

AGONY OF ECZEMA BEYOND WORDS

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Torturing Humor—Hair All Fell Out and Ears Seemed Ready to Drop Off—Clothing Would Stick to Bleeding Flesh—Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

CASE SEEMED HOPELESS BUT CUTICURA CURED HER

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony I endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sore on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

"In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first real sleep I had had in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I cannot praise Cuticura enough. I wish I could tell everybody who has eczema to use Cuticura. My condition was so terrible that what cured me cannot fail to cure anybody of this awful disease. If any one doubts the truth of this letter, tell them to write to me. Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1905."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent (liquid or pills) are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. Mailed Free, Latest Cuticura Skin Book.

SPRECKELS HEIR AND SINGER WHOSE WEDDING WAS BALKED BY WIRELESS AND FAST TRAIN

CLAUS SPRECKELS — MAY ADELE CASE — STEAMSHIP CINCINNATI

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Modern railway transportation and the wireless telegraph combined to balk the plans of Cupid and halt the wedding of Claus Spreckels, son of John D. Spreckels, the San Francisco multi-millionaire, and Miss Mary Adele Case, a pretty concert singer, when they were hurrying from France to the United States on a fast steamship, intending to marry as soon as they set foot upon American soil. The elder Spreckels, learning of his son's matrimonial intentions, engaged a special train and dashed across the continent, arriving in New York just as the steamship Cincinnati was approaching Sandy Hook with the young couple on board. A short wireless message instructed the youth to stay proceedings and report to his father at a Fifth avenue hotel. This the young man did, and his father succeeded in halting the wedding, which Miss Case and her suitor, who is heir to many millions, declare will ultimately take place. Young Spreckels—he is just twenty-one—and Miss Case met in Paris and loved each other at first sight. They sought to wed in the French capital, but the intricate marriage laws proved a bar, and they started for the United States, determined to carry out their intentions immediately upon their arrival. Fear that he might be disinherited is believed to have caused the young man to postpone his wedding. Miss Case is a native of Oregon with a remarkably fine contralto voice. She toured the mining camps of the Klondike singing and then went around the world, visiting Honolulu and Australia, and was about to achieve fame as a singer in Paris when she met Spreckels.

$650,000 LOST

Was Caused by Fire at Springfield, Ill.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 8.—The plant of the Decatur Cereal Co., at Decatur, Ill., the largest corn mill in the world, was destroyed by fire early today. The loss is $650,000.

John Sheehy, a foreman, was killed by falling timbers.

TWO RE-ELECTED

LAWRENCE, June 8.—The city council in joint convention last night elected Patrick J. Hennessey superintendent of public property for two years, and Richard J. Shea city auditor for three years. Both have been holding over. Hennessey was defeated early in the year by Oswald Freytag, but owing to a technicality regarding the filing of his bond, the latter failed to qualify.

Eight republicans voted with the nine democrats for Hennessey, the other seven republicans indorsing Fred Henning. Shea received all except two votes.

William H. Miller and Joseph S. Chambers were nominated for building inspectors, but the lower branch blocked confirmation. Fred Henning was named and confirmed by the aldermen, but the council adjourned without action.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian association will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Kitson hall. The reports of the year will be brief but interesting while the remainder of the evening will be devoted to the good and welfare of the association.

The association is now prepared to offer to the young women of Lowell a suggestion, with many inducements for their summer vacation. A cottage, accommodating easily 10 girls, has been secured, with grounds in the rear ample enough to contain a garden, and a tent, accommodating eight girls. It is situated near the Concord river between North Billerica and Billerica Centre, about two minutes' walk from the car line. Kind friends of the association have contributed toward the rent of this cottage, where any of the girls of Lowell may go and enjoy the woods and the river in camp-life fashion, and at small expense. "The Riverlook" is being freshly painted and papered, and will be ready for occupancy the last of June. It is so much larger than the camp last year that much additional furniture is needed. No doubt many friends have stored away pieces of furniture that they will be glad to send out on the load that leaves the association building the middle or last of the week. The most vital need just at present is a cook stove. Any gifts of furniture or anything which will make the cottage a comfortable and attractive place where girls can have a restful and happy time for a day or a week will be most gratefully received and acknowledged. Communicate by telephone, 235, with the office of the association, concerning any possible donations.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

KILLING TREES AND BIRDS AS WELL AS MOTHS

The extermination of moth pests is usually secured in one of two ways, either by clipping off the branches on which the nests are found or spraying the trees with a poisonous solution.

The spraying being the easiest method, is most frequently adopted, but it has its disadvantages, some of them very serious. In many cases this spraying when regularly repeated kills the trees. Some trees are more easily affected by such solutions than others, but all require natural moisture and absorb it in various ways. When poison is supplied instead, it is plain that the result must be detrimental to the tree. Hence it appears that in this respect the cure may be worse than the disease.

The poisonous solutions are also destructive of bird life. When a tree is sprayed with an arsenical or creosotic solution, and birds alight on it, they may drink enough of the poison to prove fatal. It is a fact that in many cases birds have been found dead near trees recently sprayed with anti-moth solutions. The cause is plain, thus in trying to exterminate a pest we are killing trees and birds. The nest lopping method is therefore the less destructive of the two and should be used in preference to the other.

TARIFF COURT TO SETTLE TARIFF QUESTIONS

The tariff is a dry subject and we presume most people turn in disgust from anything in the nature of a tariff discussion.

We would inform the reader before going further with this article, that the present discussion contains some new ideas in regard to the method of settling the tariff by taking it out of politics and submitting it to a federal tariff court.

We have suggested this solution before but we are constrained again to refer to the necessity of such a court for the just and equitable adjudication of all tariff questions.

The senate is still wrangling over the tariff schedules without making much progress towards a solution of the more difficult questions involved.

It is true that some schedules have been lowered and some increased; but so far as accurate knowledge of the necessities of each particular case go, the action might perhaps have been reversed with as much benefit to the country.

The whole discussion or at least the greater part of it is characterized by gross inaccuracy on the one hand and selfish greed on the other.

The senate is swayed by three forces, one the demands of the standpatters for a higher tariff, another the demands of certain interests for high protection and then the protest of the minority representing the consumers against a tariff that will stamp out foreign competition and so strengthen the trusts and combines that they can completely throttle competition in the domestic market.

With these two things accomplished, the consumer will be at the mercy of the trusts so far as the price of the necessaries of life is concerned.

New enterprises that show a spirit of independence or opposition to trust control, will be crushed out so that the domination of the home market by the trusts may be supreme.

Thus the government by continuing the high tariff will foster the trusts and while so doing will we presume as usual, make a pretence of penalizing the trusts. What an absurdity!

The whole system of tariff tinkering is radically wrong and it will never be righted until it be submitted to a judicial body that will be free from political and other influences which alone dictate the arrangement of the schedules at the present time as for many years past.

With a federal tariff court instructed to maintain a tariff that will equal the difference between the cost of production in this country and abroad, plus a fair profit to the domestic manufacturer, we should soon see an equitable readjustment of the tariff and one that would serve the best interests of the people rather than the special interests of the trusts and speculative combines.

Under such a court, interested parties should be empowered to bring up any particular schedule for judicial adjustment, but there should be a provision that a judicial tariff would remain in force for at least five years. In this way there would be no paralysis of business such as results under the present system every time it is proposed to revise the tariff.

If we are to return to sane methods; if we are to provide for the stability of our industries and at the same time to protect the interests of the people, this whole tariff question must be taken out of politics and submitted to a regularly constituted court with plain instructions as to the principles governing the fixing of schedules and the regulation of oppressive trusts. There should be a provision of law to authorize this court to reduce any schedule by which trusts are enabled to extort unreasonable prices from the consumer.

Above all there should be a provision to put in operation gradually a process of tariff reduction that would put an end to the discrimination against the home consumer by the trusts that sell their products much cheaper abroad than at home. That is one of the worst outrages resulting from the excessive tariff protection afforded certain interests such as the steel trust in this country.

Moreover the excessive tariff prevents our getting a fair share of the foreign trade. In the foreign market we are outdone by England, France and Germany.

Another evil that results from this exclusive trade policy is the lack of a merchant marine.

If our trading vessels could take a cargo abroad and bring another home for our consumption, we should soon have a merchant marine such as England has. But our high tariff prevents this free commerce with other nations and hence nine tenths of our commerce is conducted in foreign bottoms.

To overcome these disabilities and national evils, we repeat, a tariff court alone can solve the problem and never will the tariff be settled right in any other way.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

A well informed Washington correspondent rates Senator La Follette of Wisconsin as one of the wealthiest members of the United States senate. To the large income derived from his law practice have been added the profits from many fortunate investments.

The Woman's league of Scotland recently passed a resolution in favor of woman suffrage, with only one dissenting vote.

The girls of the geological department of Barnard college are planning to take a two weeks' tramp through the mountains this summer. Miss Ida Ogilvie is head of the department and the class is always under her care on these trips, for which the students receive credit in their regular college work. Miss Ogilvie took her degree of A. B. at Bryn Mawr, where she studied geology under Dr. Bascom. She then took a course at Columbia, where she received her degree as Ph. D. When she went to Barnard there were only five pupils in her department. Now there are more than ten times that number. During the college term the students take weekly trips around New York, out on Long Island and down the Jersey coast.

The Arctic and Explorers' clubs of America will organize an expedition to go north in search of Dr. Frederick Albert Cook, the polar explorer, who has not been heard from in over a year. Dr. Cook has no means of coming back. It is possible that he wintered somewhere with the Eskimos, where he could get plenty of food, but there is an uncertainty about it. According to the prearranged plans Dr. Cook was to return to headquarters at Annotoak, Greenland, down Kennedy channel, through Smith sound, and in case no ship arrived he would move to Cape York and thence to Upernavik expecting to return home not later than September, 1908.

Alfred East, president of the Royal Society of British Artists, is to spend a few weeks with Henry W. Ranger at his studio at Noank, Conn., and paint several landscapes. Mr. East is one of the best known of the English painters and he is much impressed with the results attained by the American landscape school.

A new method of reading results of the Babcock milk test has just been devised by Steven Moulton Babcock of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. By the simple device of adding a small quantity of alcohol, saturated with fat, as soon as the test of the milk is completed, the concave surface of the top of the column is flattened out, and it is said to be thus possible to determine easily, with the greatest degree of accuracy, the exact length of the column of fat in the neck of the testing bottle.

R. H. Chittenden, director of the Yale Scientific school, will visit California in vacation under authority of the federal government to investigate the sulphur process of curing California fruits.

Ernest George Merritt, professor of physics, has been appointed dean of the Graduate school, Cornell university, succeeding Thomas Frederick Crane, who retires from active teaching at commencement. Professor Merritt was graduated from Cornell in 1886, and has been a member of the faculty since 1889. He is associate editor of the Physical Review, and secretary of the American Physical society. Professor Crane, a member of the original faculty, is now completing 41 years of service as a teacher at Cornell. Since 1881 he has been head of the department of Romance languages; from 1896 to 1902 he was dean of the faculty of arts and sciences, and since 1902 dean of the university faculty. He was acting president in 1899, during President Schurman's absence in the Philippines; and this year he will again preside at commencement, since President Schurman will sail on June 9 to attend as representative of Cornell the celebration of the founding of the University of Leipzig. Rufus D. Smith, instructor in political economy, will leave at the end of the current year to take a position with the Associated Charities of Pittsburg.

Alfred Mosely of England, talking to the New York city board of education, urged the payment of higher salaries to teachers. He said that England had no more reason than this country to be proud of the way teachers are treated in the matter of salaries.

MRS. EDDY AND RIVAL WHO WANTS CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH PROBED

MRS. DELLA M. GILBERT.

MRS. MARY BAKER G. EDDY

BOSTON, June 8.—Mrs. Della M. Gilbert, long an ardent worker in the Christian Science faith and regarded in some quarters as the possible successor to Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy as leader, has issued a stirring statement and appeal to Christian Scientists to join her in an investigation of the control of the mother church and a reorganization of it. Mrs. Gilbert boldly states that "Mrs. Eddy is either dead or a helpless, mindless puppet in the hands of conscienceless men." She tells of a visit to the Brookline home of Mrs. Eddy and fruitless efforts to see the aged leader and founder of the faith. Her statement has caused widespread discussion among adherents of Christian Science and resulted in a reply from Alfred Farlow, head of the Christian Science publication committee, in which Mrs. Gilbert's motives are impugned.

LOWELL MASONS

Present Gift to Boston Brethren

BOSTON, June 8.—St. John's Masonic lodge is not only rich in history but, what is of greater import to it, is wealthy in the friendship that it has made. Another link in their chain was forged last night when a representative of Pentucket lodge of Lowell, the senior organization of the craft in that city, was introduced at a regular communication of St. John's in the temple, and presented an inestimable gift.

Past Master Wm. S. Heath escorted Wm. H. Lynds into the presence of Worshipful Master Roberts and the visitor stated that he was the bearer of a token of good-will and friendship on the part of his lodge, Pentucket. It was an elegant volume giving the history of that organization, now 102 years old, which in 1907 observed its centennial.

The worshipful master expressed his thanks on behalf of St. John's lodge, and asked that such an expression be conveyed to the Lowell lodge for the brotherly feeling. The volume would, he assured the visiting representative, be placed in the archives of St. John's, which contained a great store of treasures of great value to the fraternity.

The history was compiled by L. A. Derby, the lodge secretary; Rt. Worshipful Solon W. Stevens, Wm. H. Lynds and Benjamin W. Clements. It is embellished with photographs of all the masters of Pentucket, save three, and in addition those of Rt. Worshipful Sereno D. Nickerson, who was grand master when the Lowell Masonic temple was erected; a copy of the original charter, the nine meeting places of the lodge, and the seal.

CHELMSFORD

A hearing relative to abolishing the high school at Chelmsford was held at the town hall last evening and presided over by George F. White, chairman of the school board. A. R. Bar[illegible] Walter Perham and A. M. Warren were among those who set forth the advantages to be gained by the transferring of Chelmsford pupils to the Lowell high school. Other towns [illegible] this course were cited. The expressed sentiment of the meeting was however in favor of retaining the present system. A petition [illegible] 38 signers largely from the [illegible] village, protesting against the [illegible] of the high school was [illegible] in the hands of the school committee. Rev. C. H. Ellis, a former [illegible] of the school board spoke [illegible] in favor of the high school [illegible] country town as a greater builder of character among the boys and girls than would be had by sending them to a city school.

The gallery was well filled with women interested in the proceedings and upon the floor were a number of present and past pupils of the high school, several of whom were heard in remonstrance.

The following letter was received from Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, addressed to the board of directors:

Watch and pray that God directs your meetings and your lives, and your leader will then be sure that they are blessed in their results.

20,000 FIRE

ATTLEBORO, June 8.—A loss estimated at $20,000 was caused by a fire resulting from an explosion of chemicals in the jewelry manufacturing plant of Smith & Richardson on the top story of Robinson building No. 1, one of the oldest factory buildings here, today. Louis D. Blair, an employee of the Smith & Richardson plant, was severely burned about the face by an explosion which followed his attempt to extinguish the blaze by throwing a bucket of water on the burning chemicals. The fumes of the chemicals temporarily incapacitated Chief H. R. Packard of the fire department, who was found unconscious in a hallway of the building.

REUNION AT M. I. T.

BOSTON, June 8.—The reunion of the alumni of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology which began yesterday with the inauguration of President Maclaurin continued today with an all day social gathering, clambake and sports at Nahant. Two harbor steamers carried the graduates down the bay while half a dozen steam yachts transported the invited guests. Ball games, running races and other sports were enjoyed by the old as well as the young.

During the afternoon the ladies attending the reunion were entertained at a garden party at the home of Mrs. Webster at Chestnut Hill.

Concerts this evening and the cheering of all the presidents in front of the institute buildings completed the day's festivities.

The event tomorrow will be the monster banquet in Symphony hall the largest ever given in the city at which Secretary of Commerce Nagel will be the principal guest.

Americans the World's Greatest Travelers

Millions Spent In Globe Trotting by an Army of Prosperous Sightseers

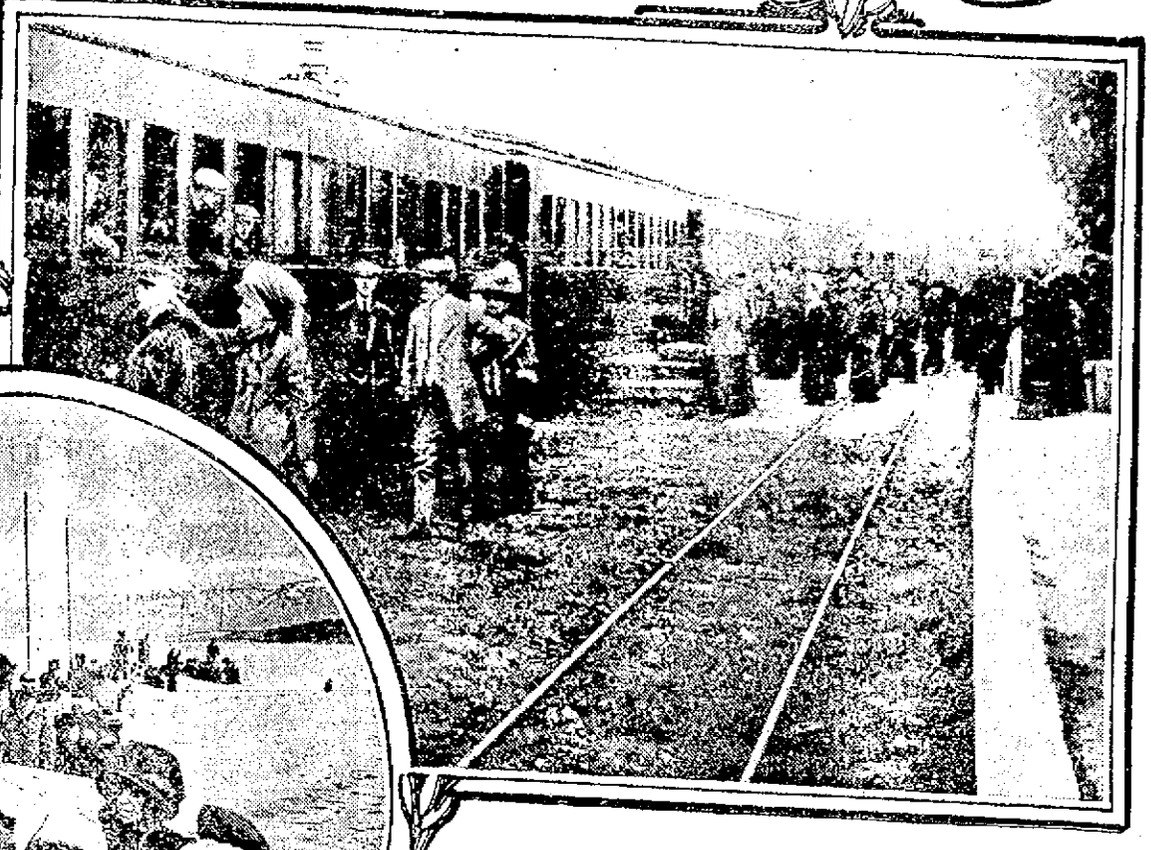

A DENVER PARTY AT THE GREAT PYRAMID.

PHOTOS. COPYRIGHTED 1909 BY UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD

PARTY OF AMERICAN TOURISTS IN SPITZBERGEN.

AMERICANS TAKING TRAIN FOR JERUSALEM.

FIGURES are fascinating when they represent an excess of income over expenses. When applied to travel, especially foreign travel, they glow. Prosperity is the forerunner of travel. A hurried scan of the bookings of the steamship agencies in New York city indicates that the year of bountifulness is at hand. It looks as if fortune were breaking in instead of knocking. It costs money to go to Europe. The money is here. Usually the flow of travel from American shores sets in early in June. This year it started in May. Bookings for sailings in June and July forecast an inundation on the other side of the sea. Revision up or down may make a difference in individual cases, but the big community is at the getaway post.

The banner year of travel abroad was 1907. Then 786,211 people sailed from the port of New York. Of this number 160,406 traveled first class, 108,572 went in second class cabins and 557,233 crossed in steerage.

In 1908 the poor and the panic stricken were huddled together. Nevertheless there were some sailings. In that year of doubt 77,000 went first class as against over 100,000 in 1907. Taking this as a basis, travel from this side during the summer at hand makes computation stand up and think.

It is estimated by foreign travel statisticians that over 500,000 go from this country to Europe between June 1 and Aug. 1 every year. A tourist agency places the exodus at 5,000 a week. Steamship agents say 6,000 a week is nearer correct. Travel to China has increased in the last six years 500 per cent. The figures in 1907 showed that 325 sailed from San Francisco every week during the travel season for that country, the total for the year being 600.

To accommodate this travel tide thirty steamship lines are actively engaged in New York city, Philadelphia, Boston and at other ports, and more than a dozen lines handle the business from the Pacific coast. All the money for this travel does not, as some suppose, go into foreign pockets. It costs money to get ready to make a foreign journey. It was figured out in 1899 that the expense of getting ready in this country averaged $25 for each passenger. Multiplying this by the number of people who sailed, it was found that $5,000,000 was the outlay in the United States for preliminaries before travelers had gone aboard their ships.

The figures are much larger now than in the year mentioned. It will never be known how much American money is spent in Europe every summer. Each year sees some new road opened, some new attractions added to the itinerary, although the object itself may be as ancient as those visited by the comparatively few who used to do the traveling. According to the best information, not less than $5,000,000 represented the output by American invasion into Europe in 1907. In 1895 20,000 Americans visited Paris. In 1895 the number went up to 42,000 during the season. The number was increased in the banner year and will exceed the banner year during the present season.

Travel According to Distances.

If these figures fail to give the mathematical mind an idea of the tidal wave of travel a vision of the extent of foreign journeying may be had in contemplating it by distances.

Estimating the number that have gone abroad at 600,000, which is the minimum, it is found by returns made by the travel agencies that the distance traveled by this army of European occupation was over 500,000,000 miles. The same distance would be enough for a round trip to the solar system, with side trips to Mars, Jupiter and some one night stands on smaller planets. If the mathematical mind is hungry for some other basis on which to grasp the idea of the magnitude of the travel proposition, here is another way of looking at it:

If a hundred people set out to travel the distance traveled in a single season by Americans who go abroad they each would be compelled to journey 200 times around the earth, which would keep them busy at the highest rate of speed for fifty years. At this rate a traveler would have to start early in life.

Assuming that you have concluded to go abroad and that you have secured your passport, which is now necessary only in Russia, but which is a good thing to keep handy wherever you go, and assuming that you have obtained from any well known bank a letter of credit which you can show to any reputable banker abroad when you have occasion to draw, for no traveler who expects to spend much will ever carry all his money with him, the next thing of interest is the cost from, say, New York city.

There are now three rates—summer, intermediate season and winter. The traveler with a bank account that is quite elastic hardly need be told that if he secures an "imperial suit" on the Kaiser Wilhelm, for instance, it will cost $2,000 from May to July, $1,500 from April 1 to April 30 and $1,000 from August to March. These round trip rates apply to steamers of the class named. Of course there are cheaper rates on equally safe and comfortable but less speedy steamers.

After all, the cost of going over is largely a matter of pride of a brand that is labeled by the average traveler as "foolish." The time came some years ago when the traveler who took second class passage had no explanation to make for so doing. The steamship lines were not slow to act upon this, and now one may secure comfortable quarters and satisfactory service in the second cabin. In fact, one line has but one cabin, and that is frankly advertised as "second cabin." Of course there is still a cheaper cabin rate—the steerage. The cost of making a voyage to Europe is a matter of pride, the brand referred to and the pocketbook. It is not far of the fact to say that anybody can go to Europe now.

And when you are there your expenses can be worked out on the same rule. Old travelers to the other side found out long since that one may see all he cares to see and without any great discomfort by traveling anywhere in Europe second or third class. Every one who has tried it has his or her own story to tell as to how to do it. A good deal depends upon the sort of traveler one may be. Paris can be seen on $2 a day. This includes a small, cheap and clean room, wholesome food, no extras and plenty of exercise in walking. Everybody who wants to see all, except the luxuries, now walks, even if one has the price of a cab or a motor.

Bear in mind one thing—no matter how much money you have, find out before you take any step what the cost will be. This rule is a good one, whether you stay at the most luxurious hotel in any European city or pass the night in the hut of a peasant. It is not pleasant to travel under the impression that every one whom you are to meet is a robber, but remember that there are robbers in the best communities. If you are a woman and are going to travel alone on the American idea that every woman knows how to take care of herself, be careful to what city you apply the idea. You can knock about in London "all, all alone," and never be annoyed. If you are a woman, no matter how circumspect you may be, drop the American idea that you can take care of yourself when you arrive in Paris. And when you start out, no matter what the locality may be, don't double on your route. This warning is for men as well as women. When you do that you pay twice to see the same show.

Much of the foregoing information as well as some to follow is chiefly for the benefit of such as have not made the trip, but who may be going in the near future. In this age of personally conducted tours no detailed information is needed. If you are going in that way you need no guide. But if you are foot loose there is no reason why you should not go it alone without any fear of involving yourself financially. To such a little advance information will help.

It is possible—and this is given as the views of those who have been there—for a man whose habits at home have not led him into excesses to see a great deal of the old world on from $150 to $200 and have something left for souvenirs. Here is an actual experience, confined to London and Paris:

Two young men left Boston with $100 apiece. They went third class and at a time when there was a rate war on, and rate wars are common on the ocean highway. Their transportation for the round trip, including the fare from Liverpool to London, was $29 each. They had one room going over, but coming back they were put in a room containing ten berths. The berths were scrupulously clean and the food more wholesome than that obtained in many so called first class boarding houses. The young men had been reared in the cultured atmosphere of Boston, but they confessed after their return that for the most part the passengers in the cabin they occupied were interesting, polite and, as a rule, far more considerate of the comfort of each other than are the passengers above in many instances. The real test of politeness is unselfishness, whether you find it on land or at sea, and, as there is something about the sea which brings people closer than is the case on land, the third class passenger who is not a brigand or a fugitive will quickly ally himself to the better element.

The two examples cited spent one week in London and six weeks in Paris. They stopped at a private house in the former. The fare to Paris and return cost $11. The room in Paris cost $1.50 each a week. Their food averaged $4.50 each a week, and they never went hungry. Here is a copy of their expenses for the trip:

Passage over and back	$25
Round trip ticket, London to Paris	11
Six weeks in Paris at $6	35
Ticket from London to Liverpool	4
Total for necessities	$80
Incidentals	20
Total	$100

The incidentals included several visits to museums and a few souvenirs. The rate for third class passage is higher now than it was when the two young men went over, but with the advance a similar trip may be taken for $125.

Since his first trip one of the young men has made several journeys abroad, extending his travels each time. He gives it as his experience that one may see a good deal over there for $1 a day, exclusive of car fares, and for $1.25 or $1.50 a day the traveler who goes to see instead of being seen will return satisfied.

Get Some French Phrases.

If the traveler who has no money for extras knows only his own American he will do well to master a few phrases. Here is a list that will carry one across any land: "How much does it cost?" "Have you got a room?" "That costs too much." "Haven't you got anything cheaper?" and "Give me a bill of fare." If you ask "How much does it cost?" in native you get the price of the country you are in. If you ask in United States you get the United States price. The foreigner has learned all that. The average foreign waiter is a past master in the art of juggling figures; hence the injunction—do not order anything from the bill of fare which does not have the figures put down in black and white. The language the traveler uses should be French. When abroad speak it as often as possible. Disguise the fact that you are an American. Even if you are in Germany speak French if you know any. A safe plan before leaving on your voyage is to lay aside from 10 to 20 per cent more than the cost you have figured.

Find the Americans.

The American traveler who goes abroad for the first time will be surprised, despite the fact that he may have a general idea that Americans are great trotters, to find so many from his own country. If you are from Philadelphia you will find a colony from that city having a good time by themselves in Spitzbergen. If you run down to Jerusalem you will find a lot of New Yorkers or Bostonians or Chicagoans roaming around in Palestine. When you get to Lydda you will get into the scurry for tickets to the holy city. All Americans who can do so now include Egypt in their plans. At the pyramids the American will certainly find some one from his part of the United States. There are Americans in Africa, on the burning sands and in the jungles. Get in touch with the American contingent wherever there is one, provided you are going where they are, and, as before intimated, you will find them everywhere. They are the best travelers on earth.

MAYOR BROWN

Objects to Light Paving Blocks

WANTS SAME AS ON CENTRAL STREET

The Larger Blocks Cost Same as Smaller—Cabot Street Bridge Question Up For Discussion

At a meeting of the committee on streets held last evening the Cabot street bridge question which was explained at considerable length in The Sun on Saturday, was up for argument, so to speak, and no positive action was taken. Ald. Connors stuck to the spirit of his interview which appeared in The Sun. He believed that the Locks & Canals should pay a portion of the expense of a new bridge. The matter was opened up when the committee started a discussion of how much money would be needed this year for macadamizing. The committee, running back a little into ancient history, thought that $20,000 would be a reasonable sum. Then there was $6000 for permanent improvements on the boulevard; $4000 for various repairs and $5000 for a steel bridge for Cabot street.

Alderman Connors opened on the Cabot street bridge matter. He said he had asked the city solicitor for an opinion as to the responsibility of the city and the Locks and Canals in the matter. He said there was time enough to await the opinion of the city solicitor, that the matter did not demand very great hurry. No further action was taken.

Chairman Badger read Mayor Brown's letter relative to the size of paving blocks to be used in the paving of Middlesex, Merrimack and Bridge streets. The mayor recommended a six-inch block instead of the four-inch block recommended by Supt. Putnam. The mayor's letter was as follows:

Lowell, Mass., June 7, 1909.

To the Members of the Committee on Streets.

Gentlemen: You are probably aware of the fact that last year Central and Middlesex streets were paved with six-inch blocks and that the results have been satisfactorily commented upon by paving experts.

The plans of the superintendent of streets this year call for paving blocks of four-inch size, and this is being done against my advice and against the judgment of many members of the city council.

The sum of $64,000 was voted and appropriated, I believe with the understanding that the same paving should be laid as last year, and that would mean the larger and heavier blocks.

Personally I do not desire to interfere with the superintendent of streets in this matter, as I believe that it is in the province of your committee to do it, and that you are in a position to act wisely after judging fairly; but I would recommend that your committee in consideration of the facts which I shall give you, vote to have the paving done with the regular six-inch blocks, and I ask that you take proper action.

I call this to your attention at this time as I believe that the wishes of the city government should be followed, and you are all probably cognizant of the fact that the loan order was passed with the expectation that the paving would be of the same character as last year.

I believe that Merrimack square, Merrimack, Bridge and Middlesex streets, and all other thoroughfares of heavy traffic that may be paved in the future should have the large six inch blocks, which will stand the wear and tear better than the four inch. On other streets where the traffic is lighter, the four inch blocks could possibly be utilized.

The argument is advanced that the four inch blocks would require less excavating, and that they would cost less. In answer to this, I can say that on the streets where the traffic is so heavy, the large, heavy blocks and the deeper excavation are actually required; and that the cost of the six inch blocks will be the same as the four inch, the bid on each being $1.24.

The contract for this work was awarded to Philip P. Connors, whose bid was $1.24 a square yard for both large and small blocks. The other bids were as follows: H. E. Fletcher, $1.25 for small and $1.50 for large blocks; Middlesex Granite company, $1.35 and $1.45; Edward Cawley, $1.40 and $1.50; Frank Mallory, $1.39 and $1.59.

I believe that your committee should settle this matter and should have the right to decide upon the size of the blocks to be used. I do not desire to delay the work on the contract, as I believe that it should be begun at once with a view of completing it, if possible, in time for carnival week in September when the streets will be crowded with automobiles and conveyances, but the matter is of sufficient importance not to be passed over lightly.

Very respectfully,
George H. Brown, Mayor.

Mr. Putnam went into some explanation of the situation, and Councilman Mahoney thought the committee ought to wait until a full membership was present before taking action either on the mayor's letter or upon the Cabot street bridge matter, and on this motion the committee adjourned until Thurday night at 8 o'clock.

THE REUNION

OF HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI TOMORROW NIGHT

The final meeting of the executive committee of the Lowell High School Alumni Association prior to the reunion to be held Wednesday night took place last night in the high school hall. As previously announced Booker T. Washington of Tuskegee college is to be the principal attraction. He is to give an address on "The Success of Negro Education."

Music will be furnished by the high school orchestra and solos will be given during the evening by George E. Burns and Miss May Eveleth. The first number on the program will be an address by Solon W. Stevens, who will also introduce Dr. Washington. At the conclusion of Dr. Washington's address F. Roy Martin, a graduate of the school and now editor of the Providence Journal, will speak.

One of the features of the evening will be the presentation of a portrait of C. C. Chase, for 28 years principal of the school, by the class of 1888. The presentation will be made by Charles S. Proctor, and the gift will be received by Principal Cyrus W. Irish.

Following this, dancing, if time allows, will be held for the younger of the alumni, and for the older ones who delight in that pastime, and the various class rooms will be the scene throughout of quiet reunions and general handshakes.

BISHOP FALLOWS

TALKS TO THE METHODIST MINISTERS

CHICAGO, June 8.—"In about three years, perhaps, the ministers will be given authority and orders to anoint with oil." This prediction was made by Bishop Fallows in a talk which he made before the Methodist ministers of this city on "Health and Happiness." The bishop was not certain that all clergymen would be as successful as might be hoped, but he said their treatments would probably be of varying degrees of efficacy.

"It is true that some ministers would probably not be as efficient as others," he added, "but we see this difference in skill in the men who follow all the arts and professions. The time is coming, however, when you will graduate no more young men until they are thoroughly instructed in the principles of psycho-therapy and when no physician will be graduated until he has been thoroughly grounded in the study of the soul and of applied psychology.

"Give God the glory for these cures. It is true that a cure might be due in part to medicine and in part to prayers. The cures which have been effected by anointing with oil have been marvelous."

TO CONSTRUCT RAILROAD

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The government of Guatemala entered into a contract with Willard P. Tisdel representing the Guatemala Central Railroad company on June 30, 1908, granting a concession for constructing a railroad from Coatepeque to Ayutla on the Mexican frontier, an estimated distance of 20 English miles, for which the government pays the company $5000 American gold per mile.

The contract has just been published in the official gazette and is transmitted to the state department by the American minister to Guatemala. The Guatemala Central Railway company is an American concern of which Gen. Thomas Hubbard of New York is president.

My back often got so sore and lame that I could scarcely move about and although I wore plasters and used liniments, and remedies, I was not helped. Upon seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in the local papers, I was led to try them, procuring a box from Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store. I used them as directed and now have no trouble from my kidneys whatever. I can walk down town and feel no ill effect, something which was out of the question before I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

BIG REDUCTION

Made in the War Dept. Estimates

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Following the dictum of President Taft that the war department estimates to be submitted to congress for 1911 be cut to $20,000,000 below the appropriations for the fiscal year 1910 the officials have brought them down to nearly $22,000,000 below the appropriation of 1910. They now are to be taken in hand by Secretary Dickinson for final revision and the possibility is that the figures may be increased somewhat before he finishes with them. Officials regret that the great cut in appropriations will mean the elimination of practically all construction work during the fiscal year 1911, except such as is under contract.

Buffalo Bill's Hearty Tribute
Cured of Rheumatism by Kickapoo Sagwa and Kickapoo Oil
He Unhesitatingly Endorses Them
Says they Cure Where a Cure is Possible, and that they are Unequalled.
There is no man in America whose knowledge of the Indians, their strong and their weak points, can compare with that of Hon. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill). The years he spent amongst the different tribes as an invaluable representative and counsellor of the United States Government gave him a familiarity with their capabilities, skill, habits, and customs, which makes him the greatest living authority on all matters relating to Indians. With this wonderful knowledge what does Buffalo Bill do when taken sick? Does he consult some high-priced practitioner? Does he take some deadly mineral medicine? No. He does just what the humblest man can do as well as the richest. He resorts to the simple but wonderfully sure Kickapoo Sagwa which is made from roots, herbs, gums, barks, and leaves, whose formula was secured from the Indians. And what was the result? He was, to use his own words, "speedily cured." Here is what Col. Cody says:

Hon. W. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill."
"I have known of the virtues of the Kickapoo Remedies for a long time, on the frontier, and in the East they are considered indispensable to every household. I used Kickapoo Sagwa for Malaria, and chills, with the best results, it being far better for this trouble than quinine or any other remedy. I also used Kickapoo Sagwa and Kickapoo Oil for rheumatism and was speedily and entirely cured. You may use my name and say for what they are recommended the Kickapoo Remedies have no equal."
Sufferers, after reading such tribute from such a man, can you hesitate? If you have kidney, liver, heart, or stomach trouble, rheumatism, impoverished blood, constipation, or nervous disorders, Kickapoo Sagwa will surely cure you, and it won't leave any unpleasant after effects either like mineral medicines do. Sagwa is sold in 50 cents and $1.00 bottles.
Kickapoo Oil, the healing family liniment, which is sold at the people's price of 25 cents a bottle, should be in your household. It stops all pain, muscular or nervous, and cures the cause. For bumps, bruises, ear-ache, tooth-ache, neuralgia, cramps, colic, sprains, strains, headache, weak back, and all acute pain, external or internal, it is without a rival. All Kickapoo Remedies are sold everywhere. Take no substitute, for no remedies are "just as good." The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Clintonville, Conn.
